

Hamilton College Science Center

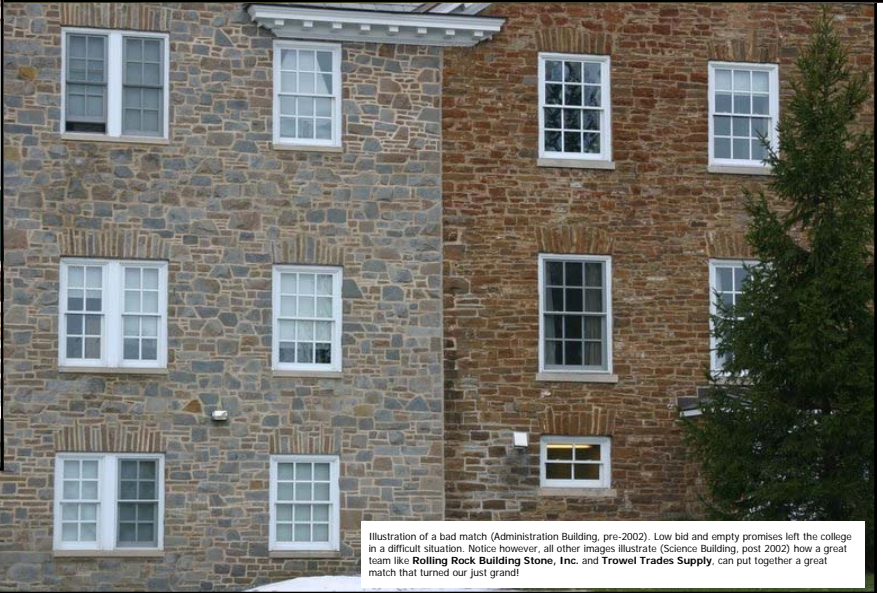

Illustration of a bad match (Administration Building, pre-2002). Low bid and empty promises left the college in a difficult situation. Notice however, all other images illustrate (Science Building, post 2002) how a great team like Rolling Rock Building Stone, Inc. and Trowel Trades Supply, can put together a great match that turned our just grand!

Rolling Rock Building Stone, Inc. would like to invite the architectural community as well as all owners who are in need of a comprehensive natural stone company that both quarries and supplies only the finest genuine products, to contact us directly. We along with our quality authorized distributors, will do our very best to provide you with what is the optimum solution for your needs!
